STANDING TOGETHER: SUPPORTING SURVIVORS, STRENGTHENING OUR COMMUNITY

Cannon SAPR Office: 575-784-1014

April is Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month (SAAPM) across the Department of Defense. Throughout the month, the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) program invites every member of our base community—service members, civilians, and families—to take part in events that promote awareness, prevention, and support for survivors.

Sexual assault prevention is a shared responsibility. When we build a culture of respect, accountability, and trust, we strengthen our units and our mission. SAAPM provides an opportunity to come together, learn how to support one another, and reaffirm our commitment to dignity and respect across our installation.

Whether you attend an educational event, stop by for a moment of reflection, or participate in a community activity, your presence helps send a powerful message: survivors are supported here, and prevention matters to all of us.
